

St Luke's in the City

150 years - 2009

Celebrating at the Crossroads

3rd Sunday after Pentecost

1 June 2008

REFLECTIONS ON TODAY'S GOSPEL READING MATTHEW 7: 21-29

There is nothing sure or lasting in this world we live in. Human opinions change from day to day. The words of Christ do not change. However, if we hear his words and do not endeavour to act on them, we are building on sand. On the other hand those who hear and act on Christ's words, are building on rock, and they will have something to show for their efforts, and something that will last eternally.

NEWS

I have had another email from Fr David and he sends his love to you all. As we would expect his study is very intense. However, he is finding time to socialise and in his words "Church Crawl" on Sundays, but I get a very strong feeling he has not found anywhere to take the place of his "Beloved St Luke's".

Fr Peter and Catherine are attending St Mark's this morning on the occasion of the Baptism of their granddaughter Zoe. We pray for God's blessing for Zoe and her family.

With love,

Fr Jim